

GENERAL ADVANCES IN WALL STREET LED BY COPPER ISSUES AND WAR SPECIALTIES

STOCKS CLOSED STRONG IN ACTIVE SESSION

Copper Shares a Feature—New High Record for Studebaker. Jump in Harvester.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2. A generally strong tone prevailed in Wall Street during the greater part of the day. The market began with an orderly opening in relatively narrow changes, reflecting the so-called war order issues. American Can and Bethlehem Steel were steady at the start, while Crucible Steel eased off. Westinghouse and General Electric shares moved up, and Altis-Chalmers, both common and preferred, were not active. Canadian Pacific was inclined to sag and traders were in the stock for indications of what the board of directors may do next week in regard to the dividend. The changes in ownership of some of the Westinghouse plants in Europe from the American company to the English company, which was announced yesterday, was the reason for the slight gains, as the company is now doing much of the steel business which formerly went to these European plants. Nevertheless, the stock did not maintain its initial advance, reacting to Saturday's closing figures around midday. New York air brake was made active on war order talk.

As the day advanced the traders turned their attention to the copper stocks, temporarily neglecting the more favored Alamosa Copper, Utah Copper, Anaconda, Inspiration Copper and American Smelting, all moved up. Virginia Chemical, Great Northern, Rio, Pittsburgh Coal and Pacific Mail also came in for a whirl upwards. Meantime Bethlehem Steel fell back a couple of points. A new high record was established by Studebaker, which showed an increase in the dividends. Maxwell Motor soared three points or more. A slightly stiffer tone developed in foreign exchange. Western Union, although off about a point, was reported to be doing an exceedingly heavy business, with abnormal earnings.

In the later dealings International Harvester jumped over 6 points, while Bethlehem Steel extended its rise to 7 points. California Petroleum moved up 3 points, and Mexican Petroleum, on the news of an advance in the price of crude oil. United States Steel, New Haven, American Can and others were still buoyant at the close.

A stimulating market influence was the Pennsylvania's June statement, which showed that every line in the system made increased gross earnings except the Vandals, Cumberland Valley, Lehigh, Chesapeake & Atlantic and the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia, and here the losses were insignificant. Coming on top of the New York Central's favorable showing, the Street argued that the railroad situation had definitely changed for the better after the protracted period of depression.
